U. S. WAR PRODUCTION INCREASES OVER 1942

Three and One-Half Times Higher Than Last Year.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 5. — Production of war equipment by American industry in January this year was three and one-half times the rate for January, 1942, undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson reported yesterday.

Approximately 5,000 airplanes were produced, of which more than 85 per cent were combat types, and upwards of 70,000 bombs of 1,000-pound size or larger were delivered to the army. Patterson told a press conference.

Although somewhat below December because of year-end adjustments, January production nevertheless was in line with the production trend, which has been

Little Business Getting Break, WPB Aid Says

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 5. — Charles E. Wilson, executive vice chairman of the war production board, yesterday cited the use of more than 1,500 concerns in the production of a single airplane as evidence that the WPB is working in close harmony with the smaller war plants corporation.

Agreeing with Col. Robert Johnson, president of this agency, that it and the WPB see "eye to eye" the necessity for greater use of small business in war production, Wilson declared their close co-operation had channeled more than $30,000,000 of work a week into little concerns.

"We expect that the amount of business placed with smaller concerns will run into billions by the end of the year," Wilson testified.

Louis XIV had the longest recorded reign in European history.

RULES FOR STUDENT DRAFT ARE CHANGED

Selective Service Discloses Broad Liberalization.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 5. — Selective service regulations have been broadened to include students in the armed forces to college students.

After the revised rules are under-graduate and graduate students in scientific and specialized fields, under-graduate, pre-professional students, and students in professional schools, internships, and students of agriculture, forestry, pharmacy and optometry.

One of the major changes provides that any student in under-graduate work in approximately 20 scientific and specialized fields "should be considered for occupational classification" if he is a full-time student in good standing in a recognized college or university and if it is certified by the institution that he is competent and gives promise of successful completion of his course of study, and will be graduated July 1, 1943.

In the past, students were not entitled to deferment until they had completed at least a portion of their studies in order to determine scholastic ability.

Scientific and specialized fields include aeronautical engineers, automotive engineers, bacteriologists, chemical engineers, chemists, civil engineers, electrical engineers, geophysicists, heating, ventilating, refrigerating and air conditioning engineers, marine engineers, mathematicians, mechanical engineers, meteorologists, mining and metallurgical engineers, naval architects, petroleum engineers, physicists, radio engineers, safety engineers, sanitary

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 5—The Japanese radio maintained silence today over the crushing defeat inflicted by American planes on the 22-ship Japanese convoy off New Guinea. U. S. radio monitors said they had heard no Japanese broadcast mention the battle.

As Latham finished reading the letter, there was applause from both the Democratic and Republican sides of the aisle. After the Texas had described Lambertson's attack as "improper and unfair," Rep. Baldwin (R-NY) arose to declare that Latham was "violating the sentiment of those on this side of the aisle, too."

"Elliott Roosevelt," declared Latham, "is fighting the enemy, not members of congress. Surely it is the duty of all members of congress to help such boys fight the enemy and not be directing attacks against the boys themselves."

Latham said he had sought out the records of the President's four sons, and because of Lambertson's "utterances" had decided to present them to the house "for the record in order that we may get on about winning this war and stop attacking one another."

"James," he said, "is now a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps. He has been promoted from the captaincy he had when the war began. When he was lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps, before the war, he was a lieutenant colonel. However when the war began he was asked to be reduced to a captaincy. His request was complied with and now he has, by his service with the Marines in action in the south-west Pacific, been twice promoted and risen again to the rank of lieutenant colonel in his own right. He has been decorated for gallantry in action.

EVATT DENIES STATE LOSES TAX INCOME

Commissioner Takes Issue with Critics in Legislature.

By The Associated Press. COLUMBUS, O., March 5.—Tax Commissioner William S. Evatt took issue today with Ohio legislators who demanded investigation of the sales tax administration on the ground that Ohioans paid millions which failed to reach the state treasury.

Three Democratic representatives, who introduced a resolution calling for an inquiry by a legislative committee, asserted that under the present system vendors were forced to pay vendors up to 11 per cent of the price of commodities, while the state assessed vendors only 3 per cent of their gross receipts. Evatt said some inequalities were inherent in a "bracket" system such as Ohio's sales tax, but that even in department stores the amount collected by vendors was only a shade over 3 per cent, possibly not more than 3.06 per cent, and reiterated that he would welcome an investigation.

He explained the tax on a 10-cent item amounted to 10 per cent, on a 35-cent item 3 per cent, but that in the upper brackets the tax actually was less than 3 per cent. Replying to legislators' claims his department had ceased arresting vendors for failure to collect the tax or cancel receipts, Evatt said collections were made for all sales in enterprises where it was possible to make audits. He added audits of department store sales were impractical because too large a staff would be required. He expressed doubt, however, that the state suffered any appreciable loss because of a lack of such audits.

The investigation resolution was offered by Reps. John F. Cantwell of Yonkersville and John T. Deighton and Lody Hunt of Cleveland.

Red Cross And Canteen Gifts Are Voted by Sorority

A CONTRIBUTION of $10 was made to the Red Cross, and magazines, books, playing cards and other items suitable for giving to men in the armed forces were collected for the canteen for service men by members of Alpha chapter, Gamma sorority, at their meeting Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A.

The contributions were delivered yesterday. Miss Midge Cooper of the WMJRN staff was a guest speaker. Miss Catherine Watson and Miss Virginia Krohn were named delegates to the state convention in Columbus March 20 and 21 and other members were urged to attend one or more sessions. Mrs. Robert Keller, Mrs. Lowell Williams and Mrs. Ira Fishman were appointed to serve as a nominating committee by Miss Catherine Watson, president. Officers will be elected at the April business session.

Mrs. Donald Quantance gave a report on help the members could give at the City hospital and also on items the sorority might be able to furnish at the hospital. It was decided that Mrs. Quantance would make further investigation before the chapter decides what the sorority will do. A book was sent to the husband of one of the members who is ill in a hospital.

Miss Cooper, who was presented by Miss Lina Krantz, spoke on Spring Fashions. Devotions were led by Miss Krantz.

A pollack supper March 17 will mark the close of a dues paying contest.

WAR PLANT MEN IN DELAWARE CO. CRASH

One Suffers Possible Fracture of Skull in Collision.

DELAWARE, O., March 5.—Three Delaware county men employed at the Scott Ordnance plant were injured yesterday morning when their automobile was involved in a three-car collision on Route 25, five miles north of Delaware.

Russell James, 22, of near Delaware, suffered head cuts and a possible skull fracture when the car in which he and two companions were returning from the plant skidded across the highway and into the front of a north-bound car. After hitting the truck the car overturned in a shallow ditch.

The driver of the car, John James, 44, and William Locke, 38, suffered minor cuts and bruises. The truck, driven by Carl Sands of Coshova, was enroute to Marion. The driver was unhurt. The front of the truck was damaged.

Immediately after the collision a third car, driven by Morris Kuhns of Cleveland, approached from the north and crashed into the truck. Damage to the car was minor and Kuhns was uninjured.

CRISINGER FUNERAL BUCYRUS, March 5.—Funeral was held this afternoon at the Henderson & Lutz funeral home for Roy H. Crisinger, 60, who was fatally killed when struck by a fast moving Pennsylvania locomotive east of the city Tuesday afternoon. Burial was in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Victory Over Jap Ships Shows Allied Power Mounting

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The disastrous defeat suffered by the Japs on the equatorial waters of the Bismarck sea is a major triumph for the allies, but what impresses me even more than the immediate victory is this evidence of the terrific striking power we are piling up against the enemy.

Maybe I'm especially susceptible to this line of thought just now because I've seen a similar accumulation of allied might during my recent tour of the war zones from Britain to the Orient. Still, taking the long view the demonstration of rapidly increasing strength in the various theaters bespeaks excellent progress (and you can use an exclamation point there) towards final success.

This idea would seem to fit well in general with Under Secretary of War Patterson's report of a mounting output of armament and munitions, including 5,500 warplanes last month. That production is a tremendous victory in itself.

Another point which stands out in this historic Pacific battle is the fact this is a victory of the air over the sea. That's vastly important for the war against Japan is of such geographical nature that allied air power is bound to play a great role in knocking her out. We shall see the proof when we finally are able to concentrate huge fleets of bombers over the Mikado's own Tokyo.

Taking the close view of the Bismarck engagement, it would seem to ensure domination of the southwest Pacific by the United Nations. That means, among other things, if there was any threat of Jap invasion of Australia, it's nothing to worry about now. Personally I don't think the Japanese ever did intend a full-dress invasion, though they may easily have had designs on some strategic spots along the north and northeast coasts.

The fast growing allied strength displayed in this remarkable battle also should afford encouragement to the Chinese, who have waited so patiently and bravely for aid in a big way. I don't mean they will take this as presaging any grand offensive in the immediate future. My observation in Chungking was the Chinese finally had recognized reluctantly the allies weren't likely to make an all-out drive against the Japanese until Hitler had been further ironed out. Still, this piling up of allied power is heartening.

That's important too, for the Chinese are having a terribly hard time and they have no delusions about the great task before them.

Big Jap Army In China We should recognize, as do the Chinese, that there's a huge Jap Army to be disposed of in China. This means it either must be annihilated on the battlefield, or forced to capitulate because the mother country has been compelled to surrender, and it would

200 More Cadets Bring O.W.U. Total to 600

DELAWARE, O., March 5.—A third contingent of 200 cadets has arrived at the Naval Flight Training school at O. Wesleyan university. Lt. Milford E. Collins, commanding officer, announced yesterday.

The additions bring the number of cadets enrolled to 600. A peak enrollment of 600 will be maintained, Lieutenant Collins said.

The group that arrived early in January will be graduating at the time the fourth contingent arrives. Each group will spend 12 weeks on the campus. Uniforms for the cadets are expected to arrive soon.

And those bombs? Well, we've got to have bases for them to operate from against Japan. Time alone will disclose where the bases will be.

Significant Point Another point which stands out in this historic Pacific battle is the fact this is a victory of the air over the sea. That's vastly important for the war against Japan is of such geographical nature that allied air power is bound to play a great role in knocking her out. # Mackenzie Sees Chance for Indian Problem Settlement

By MACKENZIE

It is not surprising that Mackenzie, who has been in India for some time, should see a chance for settlement of the Indian problem. He has seen the situation from the inside, and he has seen the Indian leaders. He has seen the British authorities, and he has seen the Indian people. He has seen the Indian problem from all sides, and he has seen the chance for settlement.

In these days of rationing, milk is truly the food of the hour. Rich in vitamin content, it is endorsed by government nutritional experts and leading medical authorities everywhere. It is patriotic to serve milk at every family meal in place of coffee, tea and other beverages. The sugar content of one quart of milk equals 13 level teaspoonsful and will save the sugar too, that many folks ordinarily use in other table beverages.

LOCAL FRONT

Dewey N. Behner expects plenty of action when his championship Harding team opens its tournament drive.

The Prexies will be out to break the jinx which has dogged Harding teams since the beginning of the district and state playoffs. Six times Harding has advanced into the final round only to lose. Four times Columbus teams tripped the Behner-coached five. In 1924 Columbus East triumphed over the locals. 1927 saw Columbus South win over Harding by a comfortable margin. North did it in 1932 and Central edged the 1940 Harding edition.

In 1936 and 1938 Newark teams piloted by Clarence "Red" Orr beat out Harding. The 1938 loss to Newark was by a 45-44 count. Newark followed up its district triumph by sweeping through to the state crown. The 1938 Newark team also copied the state title but, drubbed Harding by a wide count in the finals of the district affair.

NICE WORDS

Of all the fine press attention given Harding's Dick Mulvaine during the recently-ended cage season we like the following by our good friend, Spiv Harris of the Mt. Vernon News:

"Make no mistake about it, this guy Dick Mulvaine of Marion Harding is an all-Ohio player if there ever was one. Being the type of a guy who always wonders what would happen if, Spiv went on to say he wondered what would have happened to Mulvaine's loop scoring record if the circuit had possessed just one big, strong, defensive rebound man this season. Spiv went on to draw a comparison between Mulvaine, Charles Heskett of Galion and Ashland's lack catch of 'em all. Nicklaus turned out two state champion teams at Amarillo, Tex., junior college only to have the school drop football. Ditto at Altus, Okla., junior college, Oklahoma Baptist quit after Windy had given them their first conference title. Berger, Tex., High school survived a season under Windy's tutelage, but he left last spring to become an assistant coach at West Texas State. So the other way West Texas decided to abandon all athletics for the duration.

When sports writers of the circuit meet Monday night at Galion to pick the all-North Central Ohio league team, the scribes might do well to put Mulvaine, Charles Heskett of Galion and Ted Jacobs, of Ashland in a class all by themselves. They were all alone throughout most of the season, particularly Heskett.

Who'll win the other two first team berths is a mystery to me. Harding's Dick Cleary most certainly has earned one if only for his fine defensive duties, but for some reason or another mythical squads almost always consist of the pointmakers.

However, Dick's chances for making the squad are enhanced considerably by the fact there were no outstanding scorers in the league this season other than the three already mentioned.

Bill Wright of Mt. Vernon will be a strong bidder for one of the berths also. Bill wound up his school playing days by turning in some spectacular basketball performances. In the two games against Harding he scored a total of 17 points. Considering Harding's ability as a defensive combination, this is certainly a nice accomplishment, one, at least, that will weigh heavily in the final all-N.C.O. selections.

OHIO BLACKOUT TEST SUCCESS

30 Counties Stage Air Raid
Drill; Factories Take Part in Practice.

By The Associated Press

Civilian defense officials were unanimous today in praising Ohio's 30-county blackout last night as a successful test.

Roald Storer, state defense director, and Col. Robert S. Harst, his in-charge of the service command, both praised the test, viewed Cleveland's experience from a civil air patrol plane.

State and residents and business establishments were slow in complying with the first public warning but the blackout was effective during most of the 30-minute period. The test Cleveland from the air looked like "a much farm land."

Some scattered lights were observed, Storer reported, but he declared they would not have provided any assistance to enemy planes seeking a target.

More than 1,000 industrial plants in the Cleveland area were required to participate in the test for at least five minutes but other factories in several counties also complied at their own request.

Only one serious accident occurred, the test in all the affected counties.

Elias Bloch of Steubenville, commander of the Jefferson county defense corps, reported two civilian defense volunteers were injured seriously in a head-on collision between a motorcycle and an automobile.

Bloch said Warren Caruso, chief of the auxiliary police of Pleasant Hill, and Jack Woodward, an auxiliary policeman, were enroute on a motorcycle to the scene of a reported blackout violation when they collided with an automobile driven by George Granitor, an auxiliary policeman who was on routine patrol.

Adrem Adams, an Akron welder, was given treatment for a head wound after he was struck by an automobile driven by a woman in the blackout.

The city of Warren accepted the blackout as an opportunity to simulate emergencies under actual air raid conditions and tested fog, gas, police, ambulance, public works and other crews.

Shanties near war plants were stuffed with inflammables and set afire. A building collapse was staged with the report of "one dead and one missing."
